the Mormons to a variety of subjects—ranging from morals to communication—at the close of the Church's 133rd semi-annual conference.

Latter-day Saints were urged to shun every form of dishonesty, to keep open all avenues of communication with God, to appreciate the peculiarities of the gospel they have been called to live and teach and to resist an organized atheistic offensive.

ELDER NATHAN Eldon Tanner of the Council of the Twelve was sustained as second counselor in the First Presidency and President Brown was chosen to fill the office left vacant upon the death of President Henry D. Moyle.

THOMAS S. MONSON was sustained to the Council of the Twelve to succeed President Tanner.

LDS Membership Urged To Give All Civil Equality

SALT LAKE CITY, (UPI) — The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints Sunday urged its membership "to commit themselves to establishment of full civil equality for all of God's children."

The strong civil rights statement was issued by Hugh B. Brown, first counselor in the Mormon First Presidency, at the closing session of the 133rd semi-annual conference of the Church.

"WE WOULD like to make it known that there is in this church no doctrine, belief or practice that is intended to deny the enjoyment of full civil rights by any persons, regardless of race, color or creed," Brown said.

The Church's statement was mailed by Salt Lake City leaders of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, who had requested such a stand in a letter written to the First Presidency.

THE NAACP officials said the Church's position was "in accord with the highest principles of Christianity and democracy and that it represents a significant first step in helping to solve the problems of race relations here in Utah and across the nation."

Brown said the LDS Church has consistently and persistently upheld the Constitution of the United States, "and as far as we are concerned, this means upholding the constitutional rights of every citizen of the United States."

HE CALLED upon "all men everywhere, both within and outside the Church," to work for full civil equality for all men, "Anything less than this defeats our high ideal of the brotherhood of man," Brown said.

"WE SAY AGAIN, as we have said many times before, that we believe all men are the children of the same God and that it is a moral evil for any person or group of persons to deny any human being the right to gainful employment, full educational opportunity, and to every privilege of citizenship, just as it is a moral evil to deny him the right to worship according to the dictates of his own conscience."

The local NAACP chapter wrote to the Church presidency Friday night asking for an "unequivocal" statement in favor of civil rights. It threatened to picket Temple Square, site of the Salt Lake Mormon Temple and Tabernacle, if such a statement was not issued by Oct. 12.

president of the Canadian Gas Association.

HE SERVED as president of the Edmonton Branch and Bishop of the Carleton First Ward. He presided over the Calgary Stake from 1933 until his ordination to the Council of the Twelve last October.

AT 36, ELDER Thomas Spencer Monson, is one of the youngest men to be named an Apostle for many years.

Proof that society page readers aren't all of the fair sex was in evidence at the opening meeting of Chi Trietas, a "newly formed culture unit" according to the meeting announcement in Tuesday, October 1, Daily Universe.

Not understanding that "newly formed culture" meant "girls-only," five fellows showed up to hear the lecture by Dr. Karl Young, Professor of English. Four of them stayed; one beat a discreet retreat.

Repeat of Last Year

Nearly one full year ago, Oct. 20, 1962, the Brigham Young University Cougars traveled to Missoula, Montana and whitewashed the Montana State University Grizzlies 27-0.

This year Montana returned the visit and the Cougars showed the home town-fans how the trick was done by taming the Grizzlies by an identical 27-0 rout.

It was the Mountain Cats first win of the 1963 season and the performance put on for the 10,000-plus crowd in Cougar Stadium really gave the fans something to cheer about.

The Cougars completely dominated the game. The end-charging defensive wall gave Grizzly quarterback on Huffer fits all evening. Montana was held to a minus-eight offensive yards through the first half.

That Stinky Cougar Defense

The Stinky Cougar defense gave up only 96 yards total offense—and 84 of these came in the air as Huffer opened up his aerial attack in the second half. The Grizzlies could muster only 12 yards on the ground during the game—less than one-sixth of the total that the Cats gave up in penalties.

In this season's Grizzly-Cougar clash tailbacks Phil Brady and Doug Wardell played major roles in leading the Mountain Cats to victory. Brady's wide end sweeps consistently gained good yardage and his passing and endoffs kept the Grizzlies off balance. The 200-pound end scored one touchdown and handed off to fullback Lou Santiago on a one-yard plunge for another.

Wardell relied mainly on his passing to move the Cougars. The southpaw aerial artist led the Cougars to their third major win with Santiago scoring it on a smash over center from six inches out.

Oh That Golden Toe

Frank "Double-barrel" Baker almost took over the team scoring leadership without touching the ball with his hands. The Cougars' place-kicking specialist booted three perfect conversions (PATs) and added two long field goals (44 and 40-yards respectively). It gave him a season record of seven perfect kicks out of seven attempts.

It was all-in-all an evening of fun for everyone and coach Hal Mitchell took advantage of it by emptying his bench. One of the substitutes sent into the game was Kent Nance, one of the Cougars' most highly-touted athletes until he was injured in the first game last season.

Nance Back in the Lineup

Nance, wearing uniform No. 12, entered the game to play in the BYU defensive secondary. For Nance it was his part of a long comeback trail since he was injured last year. He has had to suffer through several operations and it is only his intense desire that has enabled him to play again.

Before Home Crowd For First Victory Mountain Cats Stymie Grizzlies 27-0

by Stan Hodge
Asst. Sports Editor

The Cougars started back on the Victory Trail Sunday evening as they sprinted to a 27-0 win over the Montana State University Grizzlies.

THE MOUNTAIN CATS began the fireworks in the first quarter scoring the first blow against the Silvertips with 4 minutes and 51 seconds remaining. The Cougars moved 84 yards in 15 plays, mostly by short gains, culminating with the TD being scored by Santiago bucking the center from one yard out. The key play was a 25-yard run by Phil Brady.

Ageless Frank Baker, who wears the big double-outlet, added the PAT, the first of nine points which he was to score before the evening's end.

THE COUGARS took advantage of a break in the early portion of the second quarter. Grizzly fullback Dan Smelco failed a punt and alert BYU defenses caught him for a six-yard loss, allowing the Cats to take possession on the MSU 17.

Brady, on the first play, tried to sweep left end and was forced out of bounds with a three-yard gain. On the following play Brady went through a gaping hole on the right side of the line for fourteen yards and a touchdown. Again Baker converted the score and the Cougars had a 14 point lead.

THE NEXT time the Y got their hands on the ball they added 41 (See COUGARS, page 4)

Dodgers Trim Yankees, Capture Series Crown

by Bud Tolman
Sports Editor

The Los Angeles Dodgers, behind the pitching of Sandy Koufax, a home run by Frank Howard and one unearned run, beat the New York Yankees 2-1 Sunday to wrap up the 1963 World Series in four straight games.

Koufax, after pitching the Dodgers' first shutout in their opening game at Yankee Stadium with a 5-2 victory, wrapped it up by allowing the Bronx Bombers to score only one run in the home run by Mickey Mantle.

Towering Frank Howard, who pounded a long 462-yard double in the opener in New York, boomed a four-bagger into the left field seats to send the Dodgers into a 1-0 lead in the fourth inning.

The Dodgers' fireballing southpaw made this lead hold up until the seventh when Mickey Mantle pegged his homer to knot the score. It was the first—and only—time in the series that the Yankees managed to tie the score and even the time it was only a fleeting hope.

In the Dodger half of the seventh inning Jim Gilliam hit in the infield. Clete Boyer threw to first baseman Joe Pepitone who lost it in the sun and the ball struck him on the chest. Gilliam scooted on around and ended up on third. A sacrifice fly brought him home.

This was all Koufax needed. Two innings later the Dodgers were the new champions of the baseball world.

In Saturday's third game of the series Don Drysdale pitched the Dodgers into a commanding 3-0 lead in the series and set the stage for Koufax with a 1-0 blanketing of the Yanks. Big Don allowed the highly-touted left-handed power ladder New York lineup only three hits and was in control all the way.

Again it was Gilliam who scored the winning run. The veteran third baseman walked a walk from Yankees right-hander Jim Bouton and moved on to second when Bouton uncorked a wild pitch. A single by Tommy Davis through Bobby Richardson at second scored Gilliam and that was all the runs Drysdale needed.

For the Dodgers it was sweet revenge after their frustrating season last year. A season which saw them lead the league most of the year and then finally end up in a tie for the lead on the last day and lose to San Francisco in the ensuing playoff.

The Dodger rout of the favored Yankees in four straight also came as sweet revenge for Dodger skipper Walt Alton who lost to New York in the 1956 series in seven games. After last season's pennant loss it was rumored his job would be in danger if he lost again. But he didn't lose and his club now reigns as baseball's world champs.

other seven points. Once again it was Santiago who carried over from the one.

While the Cats were running up the score, the defense also showed marked improvement, breaking up four of four attempted passes and holding the Silver-tips to a minus eight yards during the entire first half. MSU gained only one first down during that period, and that came on a BYU personal foul.

BYU came up with their final six points in the third quarter with field goals by Frank Baker of 44- and 40-yards with 9:30 and 3:47 remaining in the quarter respectively.

THE FIELDGOALS pushed the Mountain Cats out in front 20-0, identical to the score by which the Cougars defeated Montana State last year at Missoula.

Although Head Coach Hal Mit chell swept the bench allowing everyone to play, the chief honors were shared by Phil Brady, ballnecked Lou Santiago, and kicking specialist Frank Baker who scored nine points without ever touching the ball with his hands.

EVIDENCED By Saturday's performance, the Cougars seem to have tied together all of the loose ends that plagued them through their first two contests. The secondary defense was greatly improved and was able to withstand Montana's savage aerial attack.

The Montanians were able to complete only eight of 24 attempts. Not all of their unsuccessfulness, however, can be blamed on the clumsy ineptness of their receivers. The Cougars fired their ends constantly and occasionally red-dogged a linebacker or two and really shook the Grizzlies up.

GOOD AS the Cougars looked against the Grizzlies Saturday, however, they will have to look even better when they face the Utes in Salt Lake City next week in an important conference battle.

SATURDAY'S game, witnessed by 10,155 fans, was the last campaign of a football war between BYU and MSU stretching over 22 years with BYU winning 16 and MSU 5.
